

Work Ready Business Commitment

The Whitfield County Workforce Development Committee and Dalton-Whitfield Chamber of Commerce are asking employers to commit to participate in the Work Ready initiative. Employers are asked to commit to supporting the Work Ready initiative by:

- Reviewing job requirements to determine areas where the Georgia Work Ready Certificate may help develop a more qualified candidate pool.
- Ensuring that individuals involved with hiring or screening candidates understand what the Georgia Work Ready program is and what to do when an applicant presents a certificate or has questions.
- Understanding the Georgia Work Ready job profile process and reviewing jobs to identify where job profiles may be beneficial.
- Participating as a company in the community's certification efforts by encouraging associates to be tested and earn a Work Ready Certificate.
- Using Work Ready language in job advertisements and postings where appropriate.
- Posting Georgia Work Ready window clings on exterior doors at hiring centers to show support of this initiative.
- Please list my company on the Dalton-Whitfield Chamber of Commerce Work Ready webpage as supporting this initiative.
